CRESCENT CITY DERBY HORSES.

From present indications what may turn out to be a well-balanced field of seven will probably go to the post for the Crescent City Derby at New Orleans tomorrow. The New Orleans contingent of apparent starters is F. W. Brode, Sidney Lucas, Prince of Verona, Florisar and Knightbanneret, with Alex possibly to be added to the list. From Memphis Patterson's Lamplighted and P. Tomlinson's Sir Dixon—Repeat colt, allowed to start as The Conqueror through a bad decision of the Turf Congress Committee on Appeals, will be sent down in time to get to the post. The Rush was also to have been sent down but Lamplighted defeated him so decisively in an open trial at Memphis Wednesday that he will be an absentee. Possibly the defeat of Prince of Verona by F. W. Brode yesterday may deter his owners from starting him but they are good sportsmen and are extremely desirous of pulling off this particular event and may argue that they will have a better chance on another day and a better track.

There is good form in the lot mentioned. In the light of this year's running F. W. Brode must at present be put down as the best and a colt of good class. He has the advantage of being thoroughly seasoned, and from his race yesterday it must be assumed that he has withstood the effects of the trip from San Francisco without impairment of his California form. With Burns to pilot him it is more than probable that he will go to the post first favorite, a position that his last essay on the Coast, in which he beat such cracks as Geyser, Zoroaster, Potente, Advance Guard and Daisy F., amply entitles him to occupy. Last year he met Tomlinson's colt three times, once at Memphis and twice at St. Louis. At Memphis he won, at St. Louis he was twice beaten, his stable companion Sam Phillips winning on one of the occasions. At Memphis Mr. Tomlinson's good colt was not thoroughly ripened as his after achievements demonstrated, while at St. Louis he was at his best and F. W. Brode had plainly retrograded from his early spring form. The latter's later doughty deeds in California suggest that it will take the decisive test of a meeting when both are at their best to prove which is the better. On paper they are the two best horses likely to start.

Sidney Lucas must be held in respect. This is a good, sturdy colt, a stayer and a weight carrier and fairly speedy. The tactics pursued with him at New Orleans indicate clearly that he has been trained, raced and pointed especially to win this race and he will probably go to the post as fit as he can be made. His defeat of Prince of Verona at a mile and a quarter last week was a respectable performance and indicates that he should do the mile and an eighth route in 1:55 or better if the track is fast. It should be noted that on the form of that race the chances of Sidney Lucas and Prince of Verona are almost on a level and F. W. Brode did not beat the latter any too easily yesterday.

Lamplighted is not easy to guage. Patterson gave a high price for him as a yearling, and from his early training thought he had a good colt. He started at Little Rock last spring and ran unplaced to The Rush and Red Cross II. in his first essay and then won his next two races, defeating nothing of any subsequent consequence. Then he ran three times at the Memphis meeting without winning although he was one of the placed horses each time. Because of an injury he was then put in retirement and has not since started. Nothing in his racing career indicates that he should defeat any one of the four colts already named, but Patterson is a shrewd judge of the merits of a race horse and if he thinks well enough of Lamplighted's chances to send him for this race the colt may show that his running last year did not give the measure of his capacity as a race horse.

On his race Wednesday when he forced Hurricane to run a mile in 1:40 flat to beat him, Florisar must be voted the most likely outsider and if the termination of the race reveals a surprise, this honest, enduring colt is the one most likely to furnish it. It almost passes belief that after having run in over fifty races as a two-old, he should now come out so speedy and good. It is evident that if his legs hold out he is destined to occupy a distinguished place in the list of "iron" horses. He is a stayer, handles weight well and from his race spoken of must be at his best. The other colts that may start appear to be badly outclassed. Knightbanneret was of little account on the eastern tracks, but he is richly bred and has undoubtedly improved over his form as a two-year-old, which is not saying much. Alex is speedy but that he likes a distance with weight up is yet to be demonstrated. He may cut quite a figure at some stages of the contest, if he goes to the post, but appears to be held safe. If other starters go to the post it will be as the forlorn hope.

BENDORAN'S PRICE.

Incident to the race for the Palace Hotel Stakes, won at Oakland last Saturday by Bendoran, the Examiner of Sunday said: "In the morning Dr. Rowell, who owns the gelding, plodded all over the course, making notes of the wet spots and the dry paths. These observations he reduced to chart form, and before the first race was called he and jockey Ross made a close study of it. Ross had several mounts preceding the big race, and, aided by the chart, he had plenty of opportunities to find out what was the best way around. That is why Imperious ran a zig-zag race. The race for the show was rather a tight one. Storm King just did beat Rosinante. The little mare was far out of it the first part, but closed with her usual rush.

"Topmast, with the superannuated Bergen as pilot; Formero, with Henry up; Uarda, ridden by Jenkins, and Pat Morrissey, Bullman up, made up the field. Bergen gave Topmast such a ride as would make a dependent German turn on the gas; Formero was bogged in the first soft spot he came to; Uarda couldn't stand the pace, while Pat Morrissey was a speedless wonder.

"After the race 'Boots' Durnell, who has made such a success as a trainer this winter, sauntered up to Mr. Jennings, who trains Bendoran for Mr. Haggin.

"'Want to sell your horse?' asked 'Boots.'

"'Yes, sir,' said Jennings.

"'How much?' queried Durnell.

"'Twenty thousand dollars,' replied Jennings.

"'I'll give you $10,000,' said Durnell.

"'I refused $12,000 for him yesterday,' answered Mr. Haggin's trainer.

"'I guess you and I can't do any business,' remarked 'Boots.'

"'I should say not,' retorted Jennings. 'I'm over twenty-one.'

"It is said that the offer for Bendoran was made by Durnell in behalf of Mr. Spreckels, who wants to race him a season or two and then use him as the premier stallion of his Napa stock farm. Bendoran is one of the grandest-looking horses ever bred. He is one of the fastest, too, and should certainly sire winners."

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Richard Dwyer will do the starting at Washington Park, Harlem, Lakeside and doubtless at Hawthorne also. This is as it should be. "Dick" is Chicago's starter. It was here that he was developed and he has no superior in the country. At no important racing point in the country is there so little friction about the starting as here in Chicago. It is because he does his work intelligently and with skill and dispatch. Owners, trainers, jockeys and the local patrons of racing all have confidence in his skill, fairness and impartial honesty. What more could be asked for?

The stakes of the New Louisville Jockey Club are to be run off in the following order:

Kentucky Derby, three-year-olds, May 3.
Debutante Stakes, two-year-old fillies, May 4.
Turf Congress Handicap, three-year-olds and upward, May 5.
Blue Grass Stakes, three-year-olds, May 7.
Mademoiselle Stakes, three-year-old fillies, May 9.
Clark Stakes, three-year-olds, May 10.
Frank Fehr Stakes, three-year-olds and upward, May 12.
Wenonah Stakes, two-year-old colts, May 14.
Premier Stakes, three-year-olds, May 16.
Juvenile Stakes, two-year-olds, May 18.
Kentucky Oaks, three-year-old fillies, May 19.

All the race horses in training belonging to the estate of the late William H. Clark will be sold at public auction under the management of the Easton Company on May 5, the first day of the spring meeting of the Westchester Racing Association at Morris Park.

The horses, which are now being handled by "Matt" Allen at the Empire City Driving Park, number more than thirty head. Among the lot are Banastar, winner of the Brooklyn Handicap in 1899, but whose entry for the same event this year is void, as are the engagements of all the horses in other stakes and handicaps, on account of the owner's death; Muskadine and the three-year-olds, Lucky Bird, Withers and Mayor Gilroy. These were also among the stable's entries for this season's big handicaps.

As is invariably the case with all large stables, the younger division—the two-year-olds—is numerically the strongest, and the stable has nearly a score of youngsters of both sexes by such sires as St. Blaise, Himyar, Miser, Onondaga, Julien, Purshearer, Maesto and Belvidere. Their trials last fall justified their being liberally entered in the large stakes throughout the east.—New York Herald.

Jockeys Spencer and Jenkins have finished their campaigns in the saddle at San Francisco and are shortly to return to New York to join their respective stables. Both are good riders and Spencer is in some respects now about our best rider but hardly up to the mark assigned him by an eastern enthusiast in the following terms: "There is no jockey in the country who, for clear-headed wit, approaches him. He studies the humors of the horses he rides and sees them race with the care of a skilled general, and employs his knowledge with rare sagacity when the time comes. None of the metropolitan riders of the present day is in the California lad's class. O'Connor is pretty sagacious, but O'Connor is younger and more rattle-brained. Jimmy Rowe dug up a jewel when he unearthed Spencer in California two years ago, and deserves the thanks of all metropolitan turf followers. It is as much of a pleasure to see Spencer ride as it is to see a good horse race. If he should go to England and give the British turfmen a few exhibitions of his skill there would be wonder from Newmarket to Liverpool that Sloan or Reiff were ever considered the best jockeys in America."

At Chillicothe, Ohio there are no less than thirty-two horses in training there for the com-

MAY HAVE A NEW SECRETARY.

A special from New Orleans to yesterday's Enquirer says: "Sheridan Clarke will not act as secretary at Newport the coming season. At the close of the meeting at the Campbell County track last fall Manager Fowler was so much pleased with the New Orleans official's work as secretary and associate judge that he forthwith invited him to serve in the same capacity this season. It was generally understood at the time that he would, but he has decided not to do so. Manager Fowler today wired him, with reference to the matter, and he replied that, while he appreciated the good will of the Newport people, he would have to decline to serve in an official capacity at their meeting. Just why he has refused to again act as secretary of the Cincinnati track could not be learned. The friendliest feelings exist between Clarke and Manager Fowler and the other officials of the Newport track, as well as Mr. George Bennett, and the fact that he has declined to resume the secretaryship of the track will occasion surprise as well as regret among the horsemen.

"Ed Jasper, who has been assisting Secretary Clarke at the meeting here, also received a telegram from Manager Fowler asking when he would come to Cincinnati, which makes it a foregone conclusion that the popular Cincinnati will, as heretofore, fill the position of entry clerk at both Cincinnati tracks."

GETTING INTO THE SWIM.

Jackson Smith, the popular division passenger agent of the L. & N. has received a letter from J. W. Russwurm, the secretary of the Nashville track, in which the latter asks that he act as one of the judges at the coming meeting of six days. Mr. Smith has not yet accepted the offer made by Mr. Russwurm, and will not until he can decide whether or not it will conflict with his railroad duties in this city. Mr. Smith is devoted to the railroad business and the thoroughbred horse, and whenever it is consistent with the former he loves to devote part of his time to the latter. Mr. Russwurm has made a wise move in asking Mr. Smith to be one of his judges, for at present there are few westerners who stand higher in the community and have a better knowledge of the duties of a race judge than Mr. Smith. With him the serving in the stand is taken from a sportsman's point of view, and it is with pleasure that the writer recalls the tender of the judgeship at the Newport track two years ago. Frank Fowler, the manager of the Newport track, after casting about for a presiding official for his course, asked Mr. Smith to accept the position. Mr. Smith, after deliberating a while, accepted the position on condition only that the salary attached to it be merely nominal. Since then Jackson Smith has been the presiding official of the Newport track, serving only through love of the sport and without pay. He has made an excellent record in the stand, and the tender of the Nashville judgeship comes as a recognition of his ability and sportsmanship. Mr. Smith has many friends in and around Nashville, made while looking after the interests of his road at that point and he will be royally welcomed by them should he go to Nashville for the short meeting. Mr. Smith will know what he is going to do inside the next week, and if his railroad duties permit, he will be one of Nashville's judges.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

other good ones. In the first place,
there are the other members of Mr. Bros-

Went to post at 1:30. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second easily. M. F. Tarpet was kept out of the early hot pace and closed fast and resolutely through the last furlong. Combermerie is a good one but the terrific pace he set left him nothing to finish on. Lucidia ran well but tired in the homestretch. Andrattus was cut off almost at the start or he would have been closer up.

Overweights—Debitick, 2 pounds.

VOL. VI. NO. 65

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1900.

PRICE, 5 CENTS

AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.

The latest about training operations of the numerous horses quartered at Sheepshead Bay and vicinity is furnished by Morning Telegraph of Thursday:

"Clear, crisp weather, finely tempered by the brightest bit of sunshine of the season, greeted the trainers at Sheepshead Bay yesterday during the training hours. The track was in good condition. It had been harrowed and scraped, and the training work went on in by far the most spirited manner that has been seen since the year began.

"There were more trainers on the track with their thoroughbreds at one time than has been seen since last season. Many visitors witnessed the exercises, and they soon realized by the fast work given the horses that the racing season of 1900 was soon to begin.

"G. B. Morris, who houses his racers in his own barn at Gravesend, appeared at the Sheepshead course at an early hour and sent several of his high class ones through some of the nearest work that was witnessed during the day.

"The three-year-olds, Pupil and Modrine, turned the six furlong route in 1:24. The pair were sent through their work in single file, with Pupil, who led, looking in the finest possible shape. Modrine also looked in rare condition and the pair was much admired. A set of two-year-olds stepped a quarter at something better than a two minute clip.

"Trainer Eddie Hughes, of the Turney Bros. string, who are to face the flag at the Aqueduct meeting, had a full training day with his charges. The stable's three-year-old Goodale, by Rossington—Starlight, did the six furlong distance in 1:21. Dissenter, of the same age, by Bermuda—Betty C., turned the same route in 1:23. Pan Puk Keewis rattled off a mile in 1:56.

"The two-year-olds Princess Ottellie, by Wauwekus—Bink; Luchador, by Knight of Ellerslie—Rosyndra, and Ida Corby, by Lissak—Nell Swift, going together, breezed the half mile ground in 55 seconds. Welsby, by Wauwekus—Puritan Lass, a half brother to Tillo, and Bowen, by Wauwekus—Hindoogram, turned the same route in 54 seconds.

"The fillies Anica, by Lord Esterling—Stella, and Maude Gonne, by The Commoner, stepped a half in about the same time.

"The English lad, Tommy Archer, who weighs 90 pounds and who has ridden several winners in England and Ireland, had the leg up in several of the trials and looks a clever lightweight. He intends applying for a license in this country. He will ride for Turney Bros. Jockey Collins is also employed by the stable and took part in the exercising work.

"Lewis Elmore's fast filly Belle of Lexington took the training honors of the day by reeling off the half mile distance in 51 seconds. She looks in splendid shape. Sarmatian, the stable's handicapped candidate, breezed a half at a two-minute gait and looks as fine as silk. Several youngsters were sent a short breather at a useful clip.

"Trainer Hawkins, of the E. F. Simms lot, allowed his handicapped candidate, The Kentuckian, and the three-year-old Mark Cheek, a half mile breather at a two-minute clip. They look the right thing in condition.

"Mark Cheek has wintered in splendid shape. He has valuable engagements in the east and west, and Hawkins has not decided yet whether he will send him west or keep him to do battle here.

"All the stable's youngsters got good breezing work. Alard, by Deceiver—Silverdean; Boulevardier, half brother to Dan Rice, by Fortissimo—Jess, and a youngster by Albert—Emma Mac, clipped off a quarter in 27 seconds. The horses are in prime shape and will begin the season at Aqueduct.

"The stable has a promising lightweight jockey, Robert Frakes, who turns the scales at 90 pounds, and will handle all of the lightweight mounts that the string will offer. The young man has been in the employ of the stable for some time, and trainer Hawkins is convinced of his ability and his integrity.

"Trainer William Scully was not a whit behind any at the track, and his lot got all that was coming to them in a training way. A set of three youngsters, composed of Lawson Pink, by Ban Yan—Nosegay; Laura Kimble, by Ban Yan—Maude Howard, and False Prince, by Falsetto—Queenly, cantered six furlongs and breezed through the back stretch at a good clip.

"Laura Kimble has a nice way of going. About the same variety of exercise was allowed Lord Sterling, by Lord Esterling—Aleta; Awaiting, by Ban Yan—Sunshade; a youngster by Deceiver—Bonetta, and others. The lot are to make their appearance at Aqueduct.

"Thomas Green, who houses his lot in his barn in the Sheepshead Bay village, brought the fillies Maria Bolton and Annie Thompson to the track and indulged them in a short half speed breather. They will be seen at Aqueduct.

"The L. V. Bell string got trainer McCormack's full attention and not a racer in the lot was neglected. The bay colt, by Order—Extract; chestnut colt, by Candlemas—Everglade; chestnut colt, by Golden Garter—Kiss Me Quick; chestnut colt, by St. Saviour—Glory, and others got good short breezing work. The three-year-old Radford jogged and took a short trip at half speed.

"Ed Heffner's three-year-old Ceylon breezed a half in 53 seconds.

"Trainer John Chapman's youngsters, Ginger War, by Phenix—Cola, and one by Chimney Sweep—Princess Monmouth, reeled off a quarter in 30 seconds. They are booked for the Aqueduct meeting.

"John Atkins' good filly Queen of Song got a nice breather at half speed. She will leave for Washington in a few days.

"Jack Odom's Songster clipped off three furlongs in :39.

"A. L. Aste's Neponset got a half mile gallop at half speed.

"The shed over the grand stand is close to completion and will make a fine appearance when finished.

"Peter Wimmer, from Kentucky, with Jean Beraud, Killashandra and others, has engaged stalls and will be here on the first of the month.

"Smith & Midgely, from Monmouth Park, with a big string, will arrive about the same time.

"Superintendent Clarke has more applications for stable room at present than he has ever had at this season before."

YOUNGSTERS' NAMES.

Commenting on names given this year's crop of two-year-olds, an eastern exchange says:

"Owners and trainers had considerable difficulty the winter months just ended in selecting appropriate names for their future race horses. The mandatory rule of the Jockey Club that all thoroughbred youngsters must be named by March 1 of their two-year-old year phases even some of the expert christeners.

"The Messrs. Keene, M. F. Dwyer and John E. Madden were among the number this year that found picking names that had not been in use during the last half decade a difficult task, each member of the above named trio hitting upon duplicates galore. In the end, however, all made out fairly well, as is shown in the 967 entries to the thirteen two-year-old stakes of the Brighton Beach Racing Association.

"The Boer war is responsible for such names as Kimberley, Commando and Outlander, borne by the Keene stable youngsters. W. B. Jennings calls one Modder, Green B. Morris has a Colenso, J. E. Madden a Bebs, and one colt out of Bullet bears the appropriate cognomen of Dam Dum.

"C. Littlefield, Jr.'s Olympia and the Messrs. Keene's Olympian are reminders of Admiral Dewey's flagship. Messrs. A. H. & D. H. Morris departed from their custom of handicapping colts and fillies with ten syllable names, and this year the all-scarlet will be carried by Add, Smile, Beau, Plead and others.

"The dramatic profession is represented by baby thoroughbreds named Denman Thompson, Ziegfeld, Twelfth Night, Barbara Frietchie, Anna Held, Lone Fisherman (out of Evangeline), Drama and Papa's Wife, while colts yelet James J. Corbett and Frank Erne are expected to elicit the hearty support of patrons of pugilism.

"J. G. Follansbee's Double Six, by Domino; W. C. Daly's Christmas Card and Christmas Tree; Silent Bliss, by Anchorite—Felicity; Ashes, out of Remembrance; Splash, a daughter of Over the Water; Servant, out of Handmaid; All Saints, by St. Saviour—St. Cypria; Lady Gad Fly, dam Village Maid; Free Admission, a son of Badge; Brandy Smash, out of Mint Julep; Yelp, by Falsetto; Anecdote, by Tom Ochiltree, and Politician, sired by Senator M., impress one as being appropriate.

"E. F. Simms, a great admirer of Clemens, calls his most promising colt Mark Twain, and Turney Bros. have named their best filly, by The Commoner—Feronica, Maud Gonne, in honor of the young Irish woman who recently completed a tour of this country.

"Pathfinder, by Clear the Way—Adventuress II, is from the Hitchcock stable. The Pepper stable smacks of a family affair with its appellations of Queen Pepper, Princess Pepper, Baron Pepper and Admiral Pepper.

"Thoroughbred is a big, clean-limbed, honest-looking brown colt by Top Gallant—Vesper, in the Richards string. Broadway bids fair to earn his way in the M. F. Dwyer colors and The Tramp, The Snapper and Ante Up are the Criterion stable's representatives."

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The management of the Latonia and Newport tracks entered into an agreement not to issue any complimentary badges for the spring season of 1900. The admission fee to both will be seventy-five cents and all deadheads will be barred.

This rule will be enforced to the letter, and no exceptions will be made. To conduct a first-class racetrack it is necessary to have a sufficient revenue from the gate to help support the track.

In late years the deadhead evil has almost ruined racing from a box-office standpoint in this vicinity, and the Newport and Latonia associations decided to draw up an agreement doing away entirely with complimentary badges by charging a reasonable admission fee, to which no fair-minded person who has the interest of racing at heart can object.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The foregoing decision was in the right line but the managers should have gone farther and put the price of admission at the legitimate price of one dollar. Racing is not a cheap sport and there is no sense in western organizations charging about one third of what it costs for admission to a New York race track. People who like racing will not stay away because a legitimate price is asked at the gate, and officials who go on the theory that they will, simply belittle and debase their own business. And this applies locally as well as to Newport and Latonia.

The new Futurity course at Sheepshead Bay will be ready very soon. The fence has still to be erected, but that is a quick job when once started, and the top soil or dressing will be put on as soon as the weather conditions are thoroughly favorable. While this new course is not absolutely straight, it is so for all practical purposes, and the objectionable features of the "elbow," which always seemed to have some effect in the races run over the old Futurity course will be eliminated.

It is only a pity that the great stakes for which the course is named can not be run over the new course at once, but it would be practically an impossibility to secure the consent to the change of those who nominated mares, and without such consent it could not be done according to the rules of racing.

Improvements of other kinds are being made at Sheepshead Bay. It was found advisable to put a new roof on the grand stand, and this is now being done. The always beautiful property will look even better than ever when the gates are thrown open June 16.

A Nashville telegram of Wednesday says: "It is now well understood that M. N. Macfarlan, of Memphis; W. B. Cheatham, of Nashville, and Jackson Smith, of Cincinnati, will constitute the Board of Racing Stewards at the Nashville meeting. Mr. Macfarlan is secretary of the Memphis Jockey Club, and today telegraphed Secretary Russwurm that he would be here on the opening day of the meeting ready to go into the stand. He has never served in this capacity before, but, as he is thoroughly familiar with all the details of racing, he will unquestionably make a satisfactory judge. Cheatham and Smith have had considerable experience in the stand and are popular with all horsemen."

The English legitimate season opens March 27, at Lincoln, with the Lincolnshire Handicap at a mile. Dick Croker's colors will be carried by Wantage and Sly Fox. Charlie Dwyer's cast-off will be given a chance to redeem the promise of his three-year-old showing on that side of the water. Three days later the Grand National Steeplechase will be run at Liverpool. Favoritism is divided between Drogheda, Ambush II. and Manifesto. The latter is the top weight, carrying 181 pounds, a tremendous weight to carry over 4 miles and 856 yards of high walls, hedges and rough ground.

Dave Gideon is still trying to purchase Frank Frisbie's contract on Jockey Mitchell, who, with the possible exception of Boland, is considered the best rider in the saddle at New Orleans this winter. Frisbie refuses to let go of the lad, but informed Mr. Gideon that he intended to take Mitchell east this season, and the chances are that Gideon will secure him whenever the lad's services are available. Negotiations between Gideon and Jockey Dick Clawson are off, Clawson demanded a retainer of $7,500, which Gideon thought too high. "Skeets" Martin rode for Mr. Gideon last season prior to the time he sailed for England.

E. Blanc, purchaser of Flying Fox, intends the horse for private use in his stud farm in France. This great establishment is in charge of his brother, Camille, and is principally stocked with mares from Sterling or his son, Iscomy, which is about the best of the great European families with which to mate the son of Orme, who is too closely inbred to Galopin
to make it advisable to mate him with the St.
Simon mares. There are fifty-five mares in the stud, so the French laws, which are very strict on the breeding question when outside mares are to be sent to a stallion, will not seriously interfere with his usefulness.

Recently manager Frank Fowler made this statement in behalf of the two Cincinnati-supported tracks: "It will be our intention to conduct the sport so as to draw out the better class of race patrons. Both Latonia and Newport will have an open ring, and any reputable bookmaker can draw in at $100 per day.

"The day of syndicate booking is passed, and the public wants an open ring. We shall put forth every effort to get the best of the racing material in the west here, and with the support of the public the racing should show big improvement over the last few seasons.

"The public is what keeps up racing. They have big meetings at New Orleans, Memphis, Louisville, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco because the people turn out and support the game. If they do that for the local tracks we will guarantee just as good racing as you will find anywhere in the country."

Sofala's half mile in 56 1/2 seconds with 118 pounds up, over a heavy track at Oakland last Saturday stamps the Balgown filly as one of the greatest racing machines of her age ever seen on the American turf. She handled her big impost like the stake filly that she undoubtedly is, and spread-eagled her field, winning under all kinds of wraps from Andrattus and Intrada, both of whom were in receipt of big weight. Andrattus and Intrada were returned winners in their previous starts.

Bannie hung and lost third place in the last couple of strides. Miss Lynnah tired in the last eighth, after showing a sharp turn of speed. Grayless was well handled and stood the closing drive gamely. Palarm was right there. Hohenstauffen was never a contender.

Gaylon Brown got off well and barely lasted long enough to get second place through excellent riding. Beelzebub, a grand looker, was poorly piloted, but made up ground steadily. Carlonian showed a burst of speed. Phil Archibald is a splendid looker that got off badly and may do later on.
